Stringfellow Management Group Selected to Manage the International Association of Clinical Research Nurses

Forest Hill, MD (March 23, 2018) – Stringfellow Management Group, Inc. (SMG) has been selected to provide association management services and headquarters operations for the International Association of Clinical Research Nurses (IACRN), an international non-profit professional nursing organization whose vision is to enhance clinical research quality and safety through specialized nursing practice.

SMG is assuming full management responsibilities for IACRN including administrative and headquarters operations; governance management and leadership development; membership coordination and development; financial management; meetings and events coordination; sponsorship development; and website management. Samantha Devine will serve as Executive Director for IACRN and lead the SMG staff team.

SMG's services to the International Association of Clinical Research Nurses will include the coordination of IACRN's Annual Conferences, including this year's 10th Anniversary Conference in Arlington, Virginia on October 15-17, 2018. This year's theme will be "Celebrating the Many Faces of Clinical Research Nurse Advocacy".

SMG President, Fred Stringfellow, CAE, expressing his regard for SMG's newest partner, remarked "We're honored to have been selected as IACRN's Association Management Company, and to have the opportunity to partner with this dynamic nursing association supporting the enhancement of clinical research. We feel that SMG's background with managing international organizations will help to foster IACRN's growth globally."
